If you talk to a Bandera High School graduate of the past 20-plus years about high school, you would no doubt hear the name Bob Shearhart, or more commonly referred to as Coach Shearhart.

Whether it was his witty humor, the infamous “Shearhart Paper,” or practice makes perfect style of coaching, Shearhart left an impression on students that they just could not forget.

Impacting students for 27 years in the classroom, on the field and beyond, he demonstrated how to be a great father, loving husband, caring coach, passionate teacher and follower of Jesus Christ in ways that few men do.

There are many people who have unique stories to tell about Shearhart that embodies his genuine care and love for each person.

You could often find him on the golf course, talking with dear friends about love, life and God. He loved God and people and merged those two together whenever possible.

After his passing and talking with his family, a golf tournament in his honor that would benefit Young Life and the high school students of Bandera County was a perfect fit.

He and his wife Julie specifically believed that the mission of Young Life was important and faithfully supported the ministry for years.

Paying tribute to his love for golf, God and the kids, the third annual tournament bearing his name will be held at the Flying L Golf Course in Bandera on Friday, July 24. Check-in will start at 11:45 a.m. with a 1 p.m. tee time.

If you'd like to play, register at tinyurl.com/shearhart.

All proceeds will benefit the work of Young Life among high school students here in Bandera County.

Young Life is a non-profit organization dedicated to reaching teenagers of all backgrounds through meaningful mentor relationships and year-round Christ-centered activities. We hope to make a lasting difference in the lives of kids through helping them personally encounter Jesus Christ, eternally impacting their lives and the lives of their families and community.

For the past 12 years, Bandera County Young Life has been going where kids are to build genuine friendships with them and introduce them to Jesus Christ.
