

The Bandera PROPHEET

November 4, 2020

The latest at the Bandera Library

By Mauri Guillén Fagan
Bandera Library Director

November is here and so is the cool weather. Thursday, Nov. 4, the Bandera Library Book Club will be meeting on the back patio (weather permitting). They will discuss Delia Owens' novel Where the Crawdads Sing. Owens' novel spent a whopping 32 weeks on the Best Seller list. Swing by the Friends of the Library monthly Book Fair on Saturday, Nov. 7, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Carts will be outside and inside the library. All books are by donation and your donation supports the library. With the holidays around the corner, this is a great way to begin getting gifts for your loved ones.

The Bandera Public Library Board of Directors continues to recruit for new board members. This is a great opportunity for any of our patrons to give back and to be a part of the library's community. Any and all kinds of skills and backgrounds are welcome. Stop by to pick up an application or you can download it from our website www.banderacountylibrary.org/board-of-the-directors .

The library is pleased to announce we will be expanding the business services to include notary services later this month. Stay tuned for more information. The best ways to keep on top of all that is going on at the library is to follow us on Facebook and to sign up for our monthly e-mail newsletter.

New titles this week include John Connolly's newest crime thriller Dirty South. Set in 1997 in Burdon County, Ark., a series of murders shocks the community. Who is this person attacking and killing young women? Sitting in an Arkansas jail is a former NYPD detective. He is overwhelmed with grief and the loss of his wife and child. The relentless and fruitless search for their killer has brought him here to this jail. This is the beginning for Charlie Parker's private investigation career and his inner battles.

Also new this week is Janet Evanovich's latest Stephanie Plum novel called Fortune and Glory. Stephanie Plum's grandmother has become a widow – on her wedding night. Her very recently deceased husband, Jimmy Rosolli, left her with an armchair and the keys to an enormous fortune. But in searching for the treasure, Stephanie and Grandma find they are not the only ones who are looking for it. Faced with two dangerous enemies from her past, and a new one even more deadly, Stephanie Plum will have to rely on her detective skills and her unshakeable family bond to get them both through this one.

The Bandera Library is open by appointment and masks are required. Appointments are available Monday to Friday, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Curbside service is still available for checking out books, copying, faxing and printing services. Happy tales, y'all.