The Bandera Prophet

Last Saturday, adults and children of all ages enjoyed a complimentary breakfast in the company of the Triple H Equitherapy center's therapy horses and friendly free-roaming critters.

Volunteers served pancakes and sausage, supervised animal interactions and games, and Santa's gift give-away.

Triple H Equitherapy is at 791 Backhaus Road, in Pipe Creek. The non-profit organization's mission is to improve the health and quality of life for individuals with special needs through equine-assisted activities and therapy.
