

The Bandera PROPHEET

October 29, 2023

Nightmare on Maple Street to haunt City Park on All Hallows Eve

By Jessica Nohealapa'ahi
The Bandera Prophet

“It’s going to be bigger and better than last year,” Bandera Marshal Nancy De Foster said of the 2024 Nightmare on Maple Street. With new plans that include cotton candy, a popcorn machine and extra entertainment, De Foster said she will open the far side of City Park for parking, and volunteers will shuttle trick-or-treaters to the main action. “The Methodist Church and 11th Street [Cowboy Bar] will be holding events, so there will be a lot of traffic,” De Foster said, adding she encourages Nightmare parking inside the park. Hosted by the Bandera Marshal’s Office, Nightmare on Maple Street will be Thursday, Oct. 31, from 5-7 p.m. Admission is free.